If you are dissatisfied with this disposition, you may make a request for an administrative review to the Minister of Justice and the Minister of Health, Labor and Welfare within three months of the day following the date of learning about this disposition.

With regard to this disposition, in addition to requesting an administrative review, you may also file an action for revocation with the State as the defendant (the person representing the State in the action will be the Minister of Justice) within six months of the day following the day when you learned about this disposition. In addition, if you have made a request for an administrative review, you will be able to file an action for revocation of the disposition within six months from the day following the date of learning about the determination on the request for an administrative review.

If there is a justifiable reason, however, there may be cases where the request for an administrative review or the filing of an action for revocation of the disposition may be permitted even after the passing of the abovementioned period or the passing of one year from the day following the date on which this disposition was made (or a determination on the request for an administrative review in the case of making a request for an administrative review).
