Chapter 1 Cha

Chapter 5

Education

Education system in Japan

The Japanese education system is generally called the "6-3-3-4-year system" and consists of six years of elementary education, three years of junior high education, three years of high school education and four years of college education. Education is compulsory in elementary schools and junior high schools. Preprimary education is given at kindergartens etc.

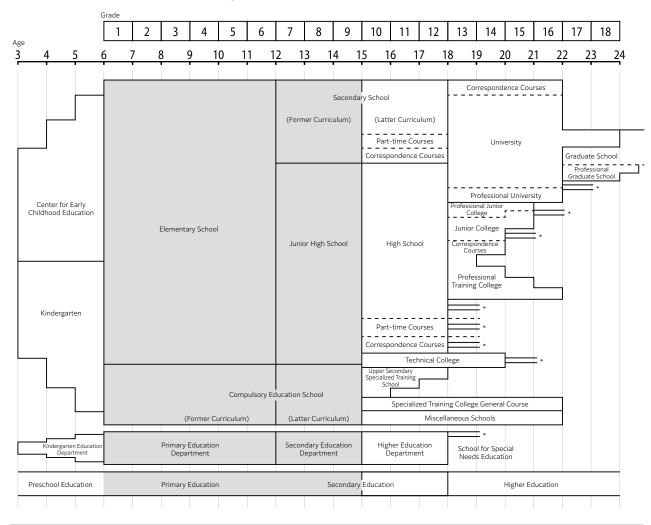

Diagram of the school system in Japan

Notes: (1) The gray sections are compulsory education.

(2) Asterisks denote specialist education.

(3) For, a special course with a minimum term of study of one year can be placed in high schools, latter curriculum of secondary schools, universities, junior colleges, and higher education departments of schools for special needs education.

(4) Centers for earty childhood education are both schools and child welfare facilities and children aged 0 to 2 years can also enroll.
(5) There are no uniform specifications for age and enrollment requirements for specialized training college general courses and miscellaneous schools schools.

1-1 Elementary and junior high school

Enrollment in a public elementary and/or junior high school

- Parents or guardians have an obligation to send their Japanese children aged from six to 15 to elementary and junior high school.
- Foreign children can be accepted by Japanese national or public* elementary and junior high school. Tuition and textbooks are free of charge.
- * At private elementary and junior high schools, textbooks are free of charge.
- Tell your local municipal office that you wish to send your children to Japanese public school.
- Visit an appointed school with required documents and the Enrollment Permit for International Students issued by the municipal office.
- In Japan, besides elementary and junior high schools, there are compulsory education schools which provide compulsory education comprising grade one through nine, and special schools for physically and/or mentally-challenged children.

(See 1-4 for Night Junior High School.)

1-2 High school

- High schools are for those who have graduated from junior high school and wish to continue their studies. To get enrolled in high school you have to take an entrance exam and pass it, as a general rule.
- High schools are categorized into schools offering full-time courses, part-time courses and correspondence courses.
- High school graduates are entitled to apply to university.

1-3

Schools for foreign students

- Besides elementary, junior high and high schools, there are various types of educational institutes for foreign students, and the facilities aimed exclusively at educating foreign children are called "schools for foreign students."
- Each school has different background of cultures, ethnicities, languages, curriculums and post-graduate paths, so you should choose one suitable for your children. (Enrollment qualifications for those who have graduated from schools for foreign students can be found in 1-7 Higher educational institutes (colleges and universities).)

The below is a website for persons related to schools for foreign students: https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/kokusai/gaikoku/index.htm

1-4

Evening Class at Public Junior High School

- In Japan, there are evening classes at public junior high school for those have not completed their compulsory education either in Japan or in their home country.
- 30 cities in 12 prefectures across Japan have 36 evening classes at public junior high schools (as of April 2021) and they accept those who have not graduated from junior high school for any reason.
- If you wish to get enrolled in evening classes at public junior high school near you, contact your local Board of Education.

Japanese Government Public Relations Online: To those who could not have an opportunity to study in junior high school for various reasons; Do you know "evening classes"?

1-5 Lower Secondary School Equivalency Examination

- Those who have not graduated from junior high school in Japan can take this test.
- The test is held once a year.
- By passing the test, you will be qualified to take an entrance exam for Japanese high schools.

1-6

Upper Secondary School Equivalency Examination

- Those who have not graduated from high school can take this test.
- The test is held twice a year.
- If you pass it, you will be entitled for the following:
 - i. To take an entrance exams for colleges/universities, junior colleges or proffesional training colleges in Japan.
 - ii. To take tests for employment or qualifications which entitles people who have graduated from high shools.

Outline (in English):

https://www.mext.go.jp/component/a_menu/education/detail/__icsFiles/ afieldfile/2019/05/13/1291562_02.pdf

Higher educational institutes (colleges and universities) 1-7

Admission to college and university

Those who have graduated from high schools, middle schools or an accredited international schools in Japan (http://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/koutou/shikaku/07111314/003.htm) are entitled to apply for the following:

- i. Colleges and universities
- Professional and vocational universities ii.
- Junior colleges iii.
- iv. Professional and vocational Junior colleges
- Professional training colleges V. (post-secondarycourse of specialized training colleges), etc.

Those who have obtained one of the following certificates will also be qualified to apply for the above-mentioned educational institutes:

- International Baccalaureate i.
- Abitur ii.
- Baccalaureate iii.
- General Certificate of Education, Advanced-Level iv.

(See a list of accredited international Baccalaureate schools in Japan:

https://ibconsortium.mext.go.jp/ib-japan/authorization/)

Those who have completed their 12-year education and graduated from an educational institute that is certified by any of the following groups are also entitled to apply for the abovementioned educational institutes:

- i. WASC (The Western Association of Schools and Colleges)
- ii. CIS (Council of International Schools)
- ACSI (Association of Christian Schools International) iii.

Other institutes for higher education

There are other institutes for higher education in Japan as follows and each has its own application requisites:

- i. Graduate schools mainly for postgraduates
- ii. Professional and vocational universities mainly for postgraduates
- Colleges of Technology mainly for junior-high graduates iii.

Entrance exam to higher educational institutes 1-8

- To get enrolled in a higher education institute, you have to pass an entrance exam or • document screening.
- Some institutes offer special assessments for foreign applicants.
- The Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU), operated by the Japan Student Services Organization, is employed by many colleges and universities as a special evaluation reference for international students.

The below is a website for foreign nationals:

https://www.jasso.go.jp/en/ryugaku/eju/index.html

Financial support for the education costs

2-2

Financial support for elementary and junior high students

- There is a system that offersassistance for the expense of school supplies such as uniforms, school bags, stationery and school lunches.
- Low-income parents whose children go to elementary or junior high school are eligible for • this assistance.
- The requirements for the assistance and the amount to be paid vary on the municipality in which the applicant resides.

For further information on this system, please visit:

https://www.mext.go.jp/a menu/shotou/career/05010502/017.htm

High School Tuition Support Fund

- High-school students whose annual household income is less than 9,100,000 yen, can receive financial aid to cover the expense of high school tuition.
- Students who go to national or public high school are eligible to receive financial aid equal to the amount of the tuition.
- The amount of the aid for private high-school students varies depending on their household income.
- In order to receive the aid, an application form must be submitted.
- Details will be announced by the school you attend.

For further information on this system, please visit:

https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/shotou/mushouka/1342674.htm

If you want to read it in English:

https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/shotou/mushouka/__icsFiles/afieldfile/2020/04/30/ 100014428_2.pdf

2-3 High School Supplemental Scholarship Fund

- Low-income parents whose children go to high school can receive benefits to cover the expense other than tuition fees, such as the expense of textbooks and school supplies.
- The amount of the benefits differs in the kind of schools students attend.
- In order to receive the benefits, you have to apply for an application form must be submitted.
- Details will be announced by the school your child attends.

For further information on this system, please visit:

https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/shotou/mushouka/1344089.htm

If you want to read in English:

https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/shotou/mushouka/ 20210128-mxt_shuugaku_1344089_3.pdf

Scholarship for undergraduate and postgraduate students

- Scholarships are provided by the Japanese government, local governments and private foundations.
- National scholarships consist of two types:
 - i. Grant type: you do not need to pay it back
 - ii. Student loan type: you have to repay it after graduation
- * Some student-loan type scholarships have interest charges while others don't.

Those who continue with higher education and have one of the following status of residence are eligible for the scholarships offered by the Japanese government:

- i. Special Permanent Resident
- ii. Permanent Resident
- iii. Spouse or child of Japanese national
- iv. Spouse or child of Permanent Resident
- v. Long-Term Resident (who intend to live in Japan permanently)
- There are also grant-type scholarships for those whose status of residence is "Student" and have satisfied the academic requirements.

56

The below is a website for foreign nationals:

https://www.jasso.go.jp/en/ryugaku/scholarship_j/shoreihi/index.html

Learning Japanese

Knowing Japanese will make your life easier in Japan. You can get to know others and make friends with them. They may help you when you need any help. You may be able to fulfill your dreams. In order to be yourself in Japan, it is strongly recommended that you keep studying Japanese.

3-1 About the Japanese language

- Japanese language uses five types of characters: hiragana, katakana, kanji, and English letters (romaji) and numbers. Both Hiragana and Katakana have 46 characters each and those written in smaller versions (four characters for Hiragana and nine characters for Katakana). The special symbols " $^{\circ}$ are also used.
- Kanji are helpful once you memorize them. Some may look complicated. Start by learning the simple ones.
- Learn about romaji as well, which is often used when you type or text for mails and social media
- If you live in Japan, it is very important to know the names of local places and streets by reading and writing characters such as Kanji. Japanese also has many dialects and they have an important role in your community life. You can learn these dialects at Japanese classes in your area and through communication with local residents.
- There are forms of polite speech in Japanese. It would be better if you become able to use polite Japanese depending on who you are speaking to.
- 3-2

Reference Framework for Japanese Language Education

- "Reference Framework for Japanese Language Education" was newly established in 2021 to make learning Japanese easier for you, with reference to CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages; Learning, teaching, assessment).
- This describes learning contents and action targets according to six levels of Japanese language (A1 to C2) and Japanese language proficiency ("listening," "reading," "speaking (interaction)," "speaking (expression)," and "writing").
- Please use it as a reference to check your Japanese language level and to study setting the next goal.

C2	Can understand with ease virtually everything heard or read. Can express him/ herself spontaneously, very fluently and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in the most complex situations.
C1	Can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognize implicit meaning. Can express him/herself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions. Can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes.
B2	Can understand the main ideas of complex text on both concrete and abstract topics, including technical discussions in his/her field of specialization. Can interact with a degree of fluency and spontaneity that makes regular interaction with proficient speakers of Japanese quite possible without strain for either party.
B1	Can understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of personal interest.
A2	Can understand sentences and frequently used expressions related to areas of most immediate relevance (e.g. very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment). Can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar and routine matters.
A1	Can understand and use familiar everyday expressions and very basic phrases aimed at the satisfaction of needs of a concrete type. Can interact in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly and clearly and is prepared to help.

3-3 Where to learn

By attending Japanese classes, you can not only study the language, but also exchange information and make friends at the same time. Find a language school or lesson near you.

Nowadays an increasing number of learners choose distance learning through social media such as Skype or E-learning. Find the method that is suitable for you.

(1) Japanese language school

- There are courses with different purposes: to prepare for school study, for work, or to prepare for exams
- There are classes for beginners through advanced learners.
- You can choose to learn in a group or in a private class.
- You have to pay for the classes.

(2) Japanese classes in local communities

- Japanese classes are organized by local governments, international associations, or NPOs.
- Classes are held in community centers, schools, churches or volunteer centers.
- Teachers are volunteers in many cases.
- Some classes are free of charge. They are more economical than studying at a language school.
- Generally, classes are held once or twice a week for one to two hours.

The below is a list of responsible departments for Japanese language education in each region and Japanese classes organized in the region:

https://www.bunka.go.jp/seisaku/kokugo_nihongo/kyoiku/nihongokyoiku_tanto/ pdf/93036701_01.pdf

* Check the following when you search for Japanese classes:

(1)Name of the class ②organizer ③venue ④contact number ⑤how to contact ⑥supported languages ⑦course period ⑧number of sessions ⑨timetable (day and time) ⑩qualification for application ⑪cost ⑫ class type (group or private) ⑬number of students ⑭level ⑮who teaches ⑯what to learn ⑰availability of parking, baby-sitting services, etc.

(3) Online classes, distance learning

If you are too busy to go to language school because of working or parenting, you can study Japanese online using SNS or E-learning. There are various version of tuitions and services, so find the one that is most suitable for you.

3-4

Website for Japanese learners: "Connect and Enhance Your Life in Japanese" (known as Tsunahiro)

This website is for foreign nationals who live in Japan to learn Japanese, aiming to communicate in Japanese or use Japanese in daily life.

You can choose learning contents in videos and scripts based on your Japanese level, the situation and keywords that interest you. Study and use Japanese to connect with society and broaden life's possibilities.

○ Available languages:	Japanese, English, Chinese (simplified), Portuguese, Spanish, Vietnamese, Indonesian, Pilipino, Nepali, Khmer (Cambodian), Korean, Thai, Burmese, and Mongolian (14 languages)
○ Situations for learning:	Scenes from daily life such as greeting people, shopping, using a bank, using a train, going to a municipal office, and preparing for disaster and emergency

"Connect and Enhance Your Life in Japanese":

hapter 1 Chap