Outline of Japan's Immigration Control and Residency Management System

Section 1 Purpose and Legal Basis

Article 1 of the Immigration Control Act stipulates that “the purpose of the Immigration Control and Refugee Recognition Act is to provide for fair management over the entry and departure procedures of all persons in Japan, residence of foreign nationals in Japan, as well as consolidate the recognition procedures of the refugee status.”

The meaning of “fair management over the entry and departure procedures of all persons in Japan, residence of foreign nationals in Japan” is to achieve a reasonable balance between smoothly accepting foreign nationals who follow the rules and preventing the entry and stay of foreign nationals who threaten safety and security in Japan. To achieve this purpose, on the one hand the Immigration Control Act provides for a status-of-residence system to enable the smooth acceptance of foreign nationals who have, for instance, advanced skills. On the other hand, the Immigration Control Act provides for deportation procedures so as to strictly deal with foreign nationals who have committed crimes in Japan.

According to the Amendment Act of the Immigration Control Act enforced in April 2019, “fair management over residence of foreign nationals in Japan” was added to the purpose of the above-mentioned law. It was added in order to clearly express that not only immigration control but also equitable control of the residence of foreign nationals residing in Japan is an important objective for us, because in addition to the growing number of foreign residents in recent years, the establishment of status of residence “Specified Skilled Worker (i)” and “Specified Skilled Worker (ii)” have increased the importance of equitable control over residence of foreign nationals. Also, “to consolidate the recognition procedures of the refugee status” was added because Japan joined the Refugee Convention in 1981 and the refugee recognition system was included in immigration control and residency management administration. On the other hand, in recent years there have been foreign nationals who need protection although they are, like displaced persons from conflict, not refugees under the Refugee Convention because they do not meet the requirement of being at risk of prosecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion as provided in the Refugee Convention. To securely protect such persons, including displaced persons from conflict who are not “refugees” under the Refugee Convention but need protection in the same way as “refugees,” a system for recognizing eligibility for complementary protection commenced on December 1, 2023.

Other major laws and regulations relating to the Immigration Control Act include, for example, the Special Act on the Immigration Control stipulating the special rules under the Immigration Control Act for special permanent residents; the Enforcement Order of the Immigration Control Act and the Enforcement Order of the Special Act on the Immigration Control stipulating the statutory administrative affairs entrusted to the local governments; the Regulation for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act and the Regulation for Enforcement of the Special Act on the Immigration Control specifically defining the procedures for implementation of the Immigration Control Act and the Special Act on the Immigration Control; the Ministerial Ordinance on Criteria stipulated taking possible effects on Japanese industry and people's lives and other circumstances into consideration.

Section 2 Immigration Procedures for All Persons

1 Procedures for the Entry and Departure of Foreign Nationals^(※1)

When a foreign national who does not have Japanese nationality (including stateless individuals) wishes to enter Japan, he or she must, in principle, possess a valid passport with a visa^(※2) obtained at a Japanese embassy or consulate abroad, apply for landing with an immigration inspector at the port of entry and departure^(※3), and receive a seal of verification for landing. Upon departure from Japan, the foreign national must receive confirmation of departure.

As a result of the landing examination, any foreign national who falls under any of the following cases will be denied permission to land in Japan in order to prevent the landing of foreign nationals who threaten safety and security in Japan: when the foreign national's passport or visa is found to be invalid, such as being counterfeit or altered; when the activities declared in the application as ones in which the foreign national intends to engage while in Japan are found to be false; or when the foreign national falls under any of the grounds for denial of landing enumerated in the Immigration Control Act (Article 5), such as having a past record of having been sentenced to a criminal punishment owing to a violation of any law or regulation relating to the control of narcotics, marijuana, opium, stimulants or psychotropic substances.

Other than these general immigration procedures for foreign nationals, the Immigration Control Act also provides for a simplified system of landing permission known as "special landing permission"^(※4).

Entry requirements for foreign nationals

(https://www.moj.go.jp/isa/applications/procedures/youken_00001.html)

(※1) A foreign national is deemed to have "entered" Japan when he or she has entered the territorial sea or territorial airspace of Japan, and to have "landed" in Japan when he or she has set foot on Japanese land. Therefore, the permission for entry or stay given to foreign nationals as a result of the immigration examination at the port of entry and departure is referred to as "landing permission."

For a country which borders a neighboring country, "entry" means a foreign national has crossed the border and proceeded into the land territory of another country. In this case, it is not necessary to distinguish the concept of "entry" from that of "landing." However, since Japan is surrounded by sea, a distinction is made between the two terms.

(※2) A "visa" refers to a document that a Japanese consular officer issues under certain conditions to certify in a foreign national's passport, using a prescribed format, that the foreign national who seeks to land in Japan has a legitimate reason and qualifications based on his or her application.

(※3) The "port of entry and departure" refers to certain seaports and airports where foreign nationals are allowed to enter into or depart from Japan (Article 2, item (viii) of the Immigration Control Act). Specific ports of entry and departure are stipulated in the Ordinance for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act. As of April 1, 2024, the number of ports of entry and departure was 127 seaports and 32 airports.

(※4) For special landing permission, see Subsection 4.

2 Procedures for Entry (Landing) Examinations of Foreign Nationals^(※1)

The procedures for entry examinations of foreign nationals are structured as a three-step examination process so that the cases may be examined carefully and foreign nationals will have a sufficient chance to assert and prove that they comply with the conditions for landing (Reference 99).

Grounds for denial of landing

(https://www.moj.go.jp/isa/applications/procedures/kyohi_00001.html)

(1) Entry (Landing) Examination

If a foreign national has applied for landing and such foreign national (excluding special permanent residents) has fulfilled his or her obligation to submit biometric information (fingerprints and facial photographs) (Article 6, paragraph (3) of the Immigration Control Act), the immigration inspector will examine whether such foreign national meets with the conditions for landing in Japan or not ((i) the foreign national possesses a valid passport; (ii) a valid visa is attached to the passport, except in cases where the foreign national is eligible for a visa waiver; (iii) the activities the foreign national has applied for is not false and comes under one of the statuses of residence listed in one of the Appended Tables of the Immigration Control Act, and moreover, with regard to certain statuses of residence, meets the landing permission criteria given in the Ordinance on Criteria; (iv) the period of stay applied for conforms to the provisions of the Ordinance of the MOJ; and (v) the foreign national does not fall under any of the grounds for denial of landing) (Article 7, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act). When an immigration inspector finds that a foreign national conforms to the above-mentioned conditions, the immigration inspector will determine a status of residence and the period of stay, and affix a seal of verification for landing onto the foreign national's passport (Article 9, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

The provision of biometric information (fingerprints and a facial photograph) at the time of the entry (landing) examination became mandatory through the 2006 amendment of the Immigration Control Act (enforced on November 20, 2007).

(2) Hearing

If a foreign national, who has filed an application for landing, does not provide his or her biometric information to the immigration officer at the port of entry or departure, or is found, as a result of the landing examination by the immigration inspector, not to conform to the conditions for landing, the case will be assigned to a special inquiry officer^(※2), who will hold a hearing (Article 7, paragraph (4), Article 9, paragraph (6), and Article 10, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

If the special inquiry officer finds, as a result of the hearing, that the foreign national conforms to the conditions for landing (limited to cases where the foreign national is found

(※1) The "entry (landing) examination" by the immigration inspector and the "landing adjudication" after the hearing are jointly called the entry (landing) examination procedures in the wide sense of the term.

(※2) A "special inquiry officer" refers to a senior immigration officer appointed by the Commissioner of the ISA, who is authorized to hold hearings for landing examination procedures and deportation procedures.

to come under foreign nationals who are exempt from the obligation of providing biometric information and cases where the foreign national provides his or her biometric information to the special inquiry officer with regard to cases assigned to the special inquiry officer owing to the foreign national refusing to provide his or her biometric information to the immigration inspector), the foreign national will immediately be granted landing permission (Article 10, paragraphs (8) of the Immigration Control Act).

(3) Filing of an Objection

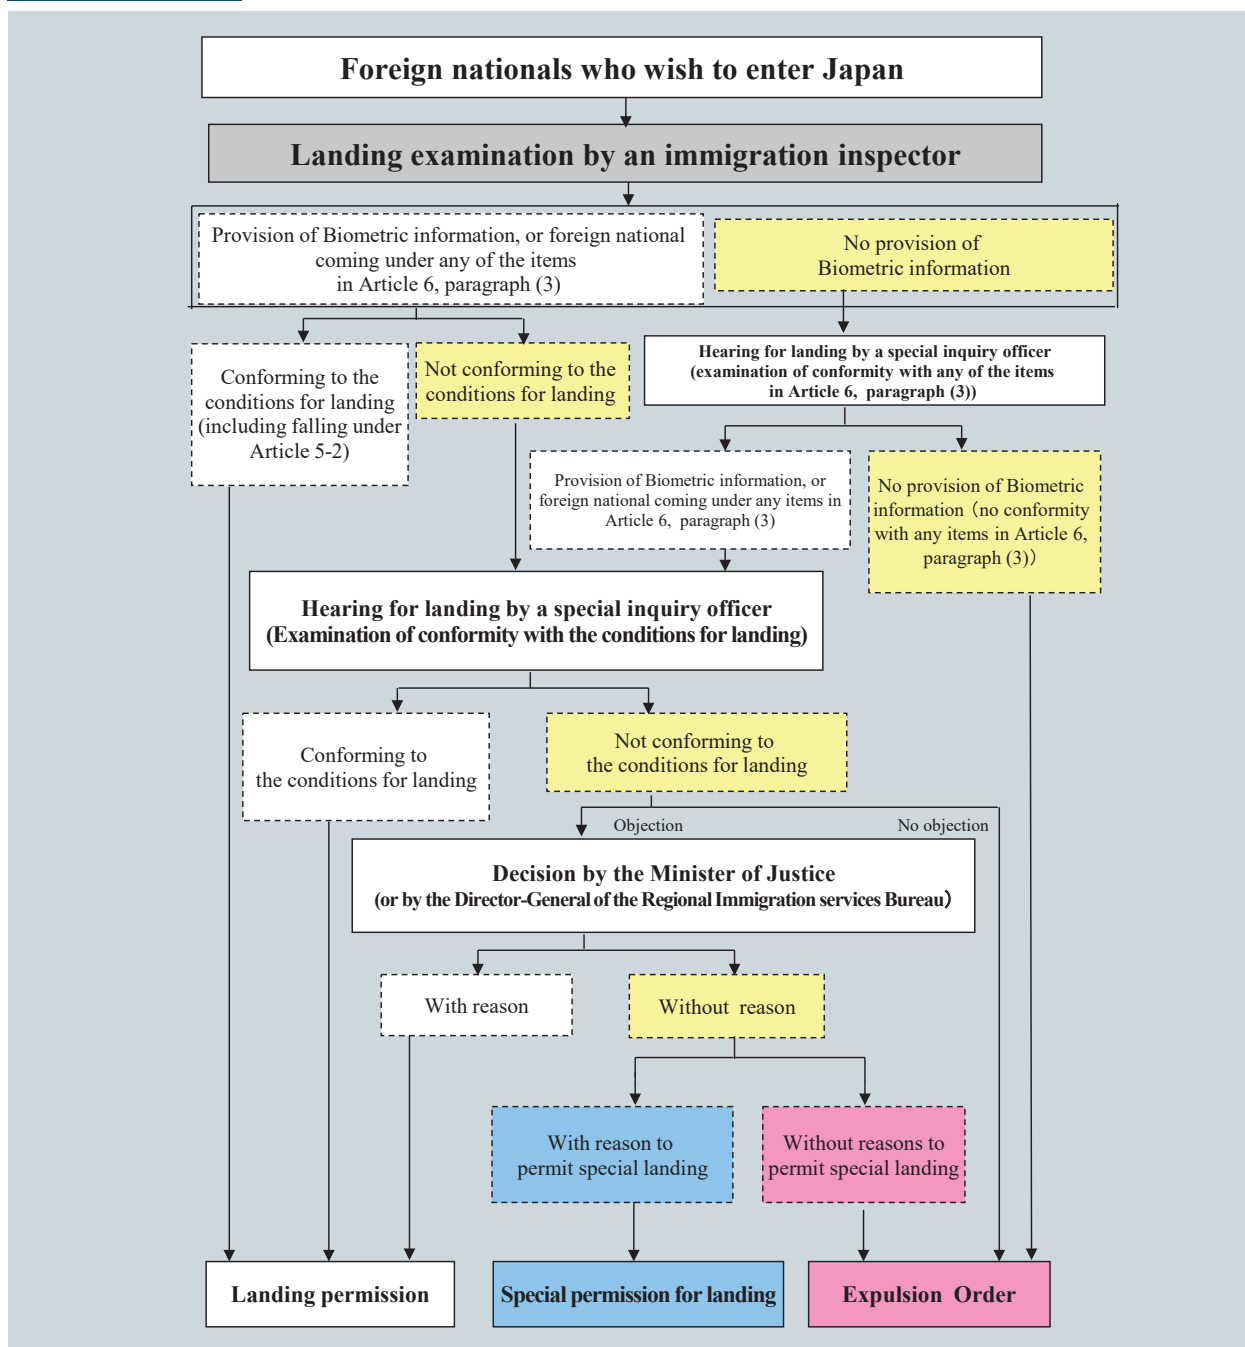

On the other hand, a foreign national who is found not to conform to the conditions for landing may either accept the finding or file an objection. In the case of the former, the foreign national will be ordered to depart from Japan. In the latter case, the foreign national may file an objection with the Minister of Justice within three days after receipt of the notice^(※) (Article 10, paragraphs (10) and (11), and Article 11, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

If there is an objection from a foreign national who has been found not to conform to the conditions for landing by the special inquiry officer, the Minister of Justice will decide whether or not the objection is with reason, that is, whether the foreign national conforms to the conditions for landing. If a decision is reached that the objection is with reason, such foreign national will immediately be granted permission for landing, and if a decision is reached that the objection is without reason, such foreign national will be ordered to depart from Japan (Article 11, paragraphs (3), (4) and (6) of the Immigration Control Act), but if the foreign national who has been ordered to depart from Japan does not depart from Japan without delay, the deportation procedure will be enforced (Article 24, item (v)-2 of the Immigration Control Act).

Even if the Minister of Justice finds that the objection filed is without reason, if such foreign national has been granted re-entry permission and entered Japan under the control of another due to trafficking in persons or the Minister of Justice finds that circumstances that warrant the granting of special permission for landing exist, the Minister of Justice may grant such foreign national special permission for landing (the “special permission for landing” provided for in Article 12 of the Immigration Control Act).

(※) When the foreign nationals do not provide their biometric information and do not come under foreign nationals who are not exempt from an obligation of providing biometric information too, there are no procedure for a decision by the Minister of Justice. They will be ordered to depart from Japan at the hearing (Article 10, paragraph (7) of the Immigration Control Act).

3 Pre-entry Examination

(1) Advance Consultation for Issuance of Visas

Although the MOFA is the ministry, which has jurisdiction over the issuance of visas, since possessing a valid visa is one of the conditions for landing, the issuance of visas is strongly tied to immigration control and residency management administration.

For this reason, the MOFA, which has jurisdiction over the issuance of visas and the ISA, which has jurisdiction over immigration control and residency management, liaise and coordinate over the entry of foreign nationals, and the MOFA consults with the ISA on the individual visa applications where necessary. Accordingly, the ISA examines whether the activities which the foreign national intends to engage in while in Japan conforms to one of the statuses of residence described in the Appended Tables of the Immigration Control Act, thorough examining the submitted documents, and hearing about the circumstances from a representative of the organization in Japan that plans to accept the foreign national. In addition, with regard to a foreign national who intends to engage in a particular activity, the ISA examines whether the foreign national complies with each of the conditions for landing stipulated in the Ministerial Ordinance on Criteria and subsequently provides an answer to the MOFA as to whether or not it is appropriate to issue a visa to the foreign national (Reference 100).

(2) Certificate of Eligibility

In principle, a foreign national is required to obtain a visa at a Japanese embassy or consulate abroad before coming to Japan. The visa will not be issued unless the visa application documents submitted abroad have been sent to Japan, examined in Japan, and an opinion has been given to the embassy or consulate, except in cases where a visa may be issued solely upon a decision made by the embassy or consulate abroad such as in cases relating to the status of residence of “Temporary Visitor.” For this reason, a considerable amount of time is required from the time of the application being submitted to the time of a visa being issued.

Therefore, in order to simplify and facilitate the entry examination procedures, a system of certificates of eligibility was established through the amendment of the Immigration Control Act in 1990. When a foreign national him/herself or another agent, applies for a certificate of eligibility for a status of residence (except for “Temporary Visitor” and “Permanent Resident”) in Japan beforehand, the Director of the Regional Immigration Services Bureau examines in advance whether the foreign national is eligible for the applied status of residence. When the foreign national intends to engage in specific activities, the Director of the Regional Immigration Services Bureau examines whether or not he or she meets the conditions for landing stipulated in the Ordinance on Criteria. If he or she is judged to be eligible for the status of residence and meets the conditions for landing mentioned in Subsection 2 (1), the Director of the Regional Immigration Services Bureau issues a certificate of eligibility, which will enable the foreign national to smoothly acquire a visa and permission for landing through presenting the certificate (Article 7-2 of the Immigration Control Act).

This procedure enables the saving of time needed for the sending of documents, and also enables speedy entry examination procedures, since all the procedures for pre-entry examination are carried out in Japan, unlike the system of advance consultation for issuance of visas (Reference 100).

In March 2023, the Japanese government started to electronically issue Certificates of Eligibility and allow foreign nationals to submit a copy of their Certificate of Eligibility for application for landing permission to improve their convenience.

4 Special Landing Permission ^(※)

In addition to being in possession of a passport and visa, in principle, the foreign national must meet the conditions for landing for the status of residence, and must have his or her status of residence determined by the Japanese government before being able to land in Japan. The following cases are the exceptions to this principle, and allow foreign crew members and passengers of vessels and aircraft to land temporarily through simple procedures provided that they meet particular requirements. The exceptions are intended to simplify the landing procedures for foreign nationals who intend to stay in Japan for a short term (or for a short time), but in order to secure their appropriate stay through these simple procedures, there are some restrictions, such as on the period of stay and area of movement.

(1) Permission for Landing at a Port of Call

This permission reduces the burden imposed on foreign passengers changing vessels in Japan to get to other countries. It allows a foreign national who is to proceed via Japan to an area outside Japan to stay for a maximum of 72 hours in order to land temporarily for the purpose of making purchases or resting at a place in the vicinity of the port of call (airport or seaport). This permission will not be granted when Japan is the final destination and the vessel is not proceeding to a destination outside Japan (Article 14 of the Immigration Control Act).

(2) Landing Permission for Cruise Ship Tourists

This landing permission for cruise ship tourists is intended to offer increased convenience to foreign passengers onboard cruise ships designated by the Commissioner of the ISA (designated passenger ships). If a foreign national onboard a designated passenger ship wishes to land for the purpose of sightseeing, he or she will be granted landing permission within a period not exceeding seven days or 30 days until the time of departure on the condition that such foreign national returns to the ship before the designated passenger ship leaves the port (Article 14-2 of the Immigration Control Act).

(3) Permission for Landing in Transit

This permission improves convenience for foreign passengers aboard a vessel and aircraft. It allows a foreign national aboard a vessel calling at two or more ports of entry and departure to land temporarily for sightseeing purposes while the vessel is in Japan and to return to the vessel at another port of entry and departure at which the vessel is scheduled to call within 15 days, or allows a foreign national on board a vessel or aircraft who plans to proceed to an area outside Japan via Japan to make a transit stop and leave Japan from another port of entry and departure in the vicinity of the port at which he or she entered, within three days of his or her entry into Japan (Article 15 of the Immigration Control Act).

(4) Landing Permission for Crew Members

This permission improves convenience for foreign crew members. It allows a foreign crew member aboard a vessel and aircraft to land temporarily at a port of call for the purpose of transferring to another vessel, making purchases or taking a rest within a limit of seven or

(※) For landing permission for temporary refuge, see Section 6, Subsection 4 below.

For foreign crew members who frequently land at a Japanese port of entry and departure, there is also a system of multiple landing permission for crew members (Article 16 of the Immigration Control Act).

(5) Permission for Emergency Landing

The purpose of this provision is to respond quickly to emergency situations of foreign passengers and crew members aboard a vessel or an aircraft. If foreign nationals need to land in Japan urgently for medical treatment of a disease, injury or some other physical ailment, permission will be granted until the cause thereof ceases to exist (Article 17 of the Immigration Control Act).

(6) Landing Permission Due to Distress

This permission was established for the purpose of promptly dealing with vessels that are in distress. It is granted when it is necessary to carry out relief and protection of foreign victims aboard a vessel or aircraft in distress or in the event of a forced landing within a limit of 30 days (Article 18 of the Immigration Control Act).

5 Procedures for the Departure and Return of Japanese Nationals

Immigration control and residency management administration is responsible for ensuring equitable control of immigration for all people, so the Immigration Control Act also stipulates the procedures departure and return of Japanese nationals.

If a Japanese national departs from Japan, his or her departure must be confirmed by an immigration inspector at the port of entry and departure. In addition, if a Japanese national returns to Japan, his or her return must be confirmed by an immigration inspector (Articles 60 and 61 of the Immigration Control Act).

Section 3 Examination of the Status of Residence of Foreign Nationals

1 Status of Residence System

In principle, foreign nationals who enter and reside as residents in Japan are required to be granted a status of residence designated by the Immigration Control Act. The status of residence categorizes a wide range of activities of foreign nationals, and clarifies whether they are permitted to enter and reside in Japan if they intend to engage in certain activities. This scheme is called the status of residence system and it forms the foundation of the immigration control and residency management administration of Japan (Reference 101).

The statuses can be broadly divided into two categories:

- (i) Statuses of residence which focus on the authorized activities of the foreign national in Japan (one of the statuses of residence in the left-hand column of the Appended Table I of the Immigration Control Act (activity status))
- (ii) Statuses of residence which focus on the personal status or position of the foreign national (one of the statuses of residence in the left-hand column of the Appended Table II of the Immigration Control Act (residency status))

The basis of the former is “what the foreign national does,” while that of the latter is “what kind of status the foreign national has.”

In addition, as Japan adopts a policy of permitting foreign nationals who are to engage in occupational activities utilizing their professional techniques, skills, or knowledge to enter and stay in Japan, but does not to permit other foreign workers to enter and stay in Japan in principle, the statuses of residence that belong to the abovementioned category (i) are divided into the two subcategories of statuses of residence for which work activities are permitted (activities to operate income-earning businesses or activities to receive remuneration), and statuses of residence for which work activities are not permitted.

Although the original purpose of the statuses of residence which belong to the abovementioned category (ii) is not for work, it is possible to engage in a work activity because there are no restrictions imposed what activities the foreign national does.

Furthermore, if an activity among the statuses of residence is likely to impact Japanese industry and people's lives, the foreign national will not be permitted to enter Japan unless such a foreign national meets the criteria for the landing permission stipulated by the Ministerial Ordinance on Criteria.

If a foreign national residing in Japan wishes to stay for a new purpose that differs from the initial purpose of residence or wishes to continue to stay in Japan even after the expiration of the initial period of stay granted for his or her status of residence, he or she is required to file an application in accordance with the Immigration Control Act, and to obtain permission. In detail, (1) permission for change of the status of residence; (2) permission for extension of the period of stay; (3) permission for permanent residence; (4) permission for acquisition of a status of residence; (5) re-entry permission; and (6) permission to engage in an activity other than that permitted under the status of residence previously granted; and the task of making these decisions is called examination of the status of residence.

The permission of (1) to (4) is decided by the Minister of Justice (the Commissioner of the ISA as commissioned by the Minister of Justice or the Director of the Regional Immigration Services Bureau as commissioned by the Commissioner of the ISA), and the permission of (5) and (6) is decided by the Commissioner of the ISA (the Director of the Regional Immigration Services Bureau as commissioned by the Commissioner of the ISA) (Article 69-2 of the Immigration Control Act).

(1) Permission for Change of Status of Residence

If a foreign national staying in Japan wishes to change the activities in which he or she is to engage in Japan, he or she will need to apply for permission for change of the status of residence before engaging in any new activities and obtain permission for a change to the status of residence corresponding to the new activities (Article 20 of the Immigration Control Act).

(2) Permission for Extension of the Period of Stay

If a foreign national residing in Japan wishes to continue to stay in Japan even after the expiration of his or her period of stay without changing the status of residence currently possessed by him or her, he or she will need to apply for permission to extend the period of stay before the expiration of his or her period of stay and obtain permission for extension of the period of stay (Article 21 of the Immigration Control Act).

(3) Permission for Permanent Residence

The status of permanent residence is granted when certain conditions are met by a foreign national staying in Japan under some other status of residence, who applies for permanent residence permission, or by a foreign national who applies to acquire permanent residence due to birth or renouncement of Japanese nationality (Article 22 of the Immigration Control Act)^(※1, ※2).

(※1) In order to receive permission for permanent residence, the following requirements must be met: (i) the applicant's behavior and conduct must be good; and (ii) the applicant must have sufficient assets or skills to make an independent living, and (iii) the permanent residence of the foreign national must be deemed to be in accordance with the interests of Japan. However, a spouse or child of a Japanese national, a permanent resident or a special permanent resident does not need to satisfy requirements (i) and (ii).

(※2) The ISA (formerly the Immigration Bureau) established its Guidelines for Contributions to Japan on March 31, 2005, and published them on the website of the ISA. In addition, the ISA has posted examples of the cases where contributions were recognized and permission for permanent residence was granted, as well as the cases where permission was not granted on its website. (https://www.moj.go.jp/isa/applications/resources/nyukan_nyukan36.html) In addition, on March 31, 2006, the ISA laid down the "Guidelines on Permission for Permanent Residence" and published general requirements relating to permission for permanent residence as well as the standard relating to the length of residence. (https://www.moj.go.jp/isa/applications/resources/nyukan_nyukan50.html)

(5) Re-entry Permission

If a foreign national residing in Japan seeks to temporarily depart from Japan and re-enter Japan, he or she may depart from Japan and re-enter Japan with the status of residence and the period of stay currently possessed by him or her, without taking other steps to apply for a new visa as long as he or she receives permission for re-entry in advance (Article 26 of the Immigration Control Act).

In addition, from July 9, 2012, if a mid to long-term resident (see Section 4 Subsection 1 below) re-enters Japan within one year of departure in possession of a valid passport and residence card, or if a special permanent resident re-enters Japan within two years of departure in possession of a valid passport and special permanent resident certificate, in principle, he or she is not required to obtain permission for re-entry in advance (Article 26-2 of the Immigration Control Act, Article 23 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

Moreover, from January 1, 2015, if a foreign national who entered Japan on being granted the status of residence of "Temporary Visitor" re-enters Japan on a cruise ship (designated passenger ship) within 15 days of the departure of the designated passenger ship whose route takes it from Japan to another country and then back to Japan, he or she is not required, in principle, to receive permission for re-entry (Article 26-3 of the Immigration Control Act).

In addition, with regard to the Embarkation Cards for Foreign Nationals which previously had to be submitted at the time of departure, since it is possible to confirm the identity of the foreign national using the passport, etc. presented by the foreign national, a revision was made so that from April 1, 2016, the submission of the card is no longer required except for foreign nationals intending to re-enter the country, etc. (Article 27, etc. of the Regulation for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act).

A foreign national who is granted a status of residence according to the activities in which he or she is engaged must receive permission to engage in an activity other than those permitted by the status of residence previously granted in advance if he or she wishes to engage in activities “related to the management of business involving income or activities for which he or she receives remuneration” (working activities), which are not included in those activities under his or her category of status of residence. A typical example is that of an international student who wishes to have a part-time job. The Minister of Justice will give permission to the extent that the extra activity does not interfere with the original activity that is the main purpose of his or her residence (Article 19, paragraph (2) of the Immigration Control Act).

Since July 9, 2012, it has become possible for any person who has been granted the status of residence of “Student” (except for foreign nationals who have been granted a period of stay of three months and foreign nationals who entered Japan with re-entry permission) at landing examination to apply for permission to engage in an activity other than that permitted under the status of residence previously granted immediately after the status is granted to him or her on the spot.

Section 4

Residency Management System of Mid to Long-Term Residents, etc.

1 Residency Management System of Mid to Long-Term Residents

The residency management system for mid to long-term residents is a system enabling the Commissioner of the ISA to accurately and continuously keep track of the information necessary for the residency management of foreign nationals who are residing in Japan for a mid to long-term with a status of residence. Under this system, a residence card will be issued to mid to long-term residents accordance with the permission pertaining to the foreign national's status such as the permission for landing, permission for change of the status of residence and permission for extension of period of stay. Since important items of information kept by the Commissioner of the ISA are given on the residence card, notification of a change is required to be given in the event of a change arising in the described matters, and therefore the latest information is reflected at all times on the card. In addition, in order to accurately and continuously keep track of the information necessary for residency management, mid to long-term residents are required to give notification of the organization of affiliation, etc. to which they belong, and notifications on information are also accepted from the organization of affiliation of the mid to long-term resident.

In further detail, mid to long-term residents refer to foreign nationals who do not come under any of the following items (i) through (vi) (Article 19-3 of the Immigration Control Act):

- (i) Persons granted permission to stay for three months or less,

- (ii) Persons granted the status of residence of “Temporary Visitor,”
- (iii) Persons granted the status of residence of “Diplomat” or “Official,”
- (iv) Persons recognized by the Ordinance of the MOJ as equivalent to the foreign nationals mentioned above (i) to (iii) (specifically, the staff of the Japanese office of the Taiwan-Japan Relations Association (Taipei Economic and Cultural Representative Office in Japan, etc.) and the Permanent General Mission of Palestine in Japan who have the status of residence of “Designated Activities” and their families, and digital nomads and their spouses and children),
- (v) Special permanent residents,
- (vi) Persons with no status of residence.

(1) Residence Card

The residence card contains important information kept by the Commissioner of the ISA, such as the name, date of birth, sex, nationality/region, place of residence, status of residence, period of stay, whether the holder is restrictions on employment or not (and for those aged 16 or older, a facial image). As a measure to prevent forgery, the residence card embeds an IC chip in which all or some of the matters described on the face of the card are recorded (Article 19-4 of the Immigration Control Act).

(2) Notifications and Applications Relating to Residence Cards (Reference 102)

(a) Notification of the Place of Residence After Newly Landing in Japan

A mid to long-term resident who possesses a residence card^(※2) which was issued upon newly obtaining a landing permit at the port of entry, or who is in possession of a passport containing a statement to the effect that a residence card will be issued at a later date (hereinafter referred to as “residence card, etc.”) must notify the Commissioner of the ISA of his or her place of residence by submitting a notification at the office of the municipality where the place of residence is located, bringing his or her residence card, etc., within 14 days of the day of deciding on the place of residence (Article 19-7 of the Immigration Control Act).

(※1) If a mid to long-term resident has submitted his or her residence card and submitted a notification of moving in or a transfer of residence based on the Residential Basic Book Act, it is deemed that he or she submitted the “Notification of the Place of Residence” under the Immigration Control Act, and he or she is not required to give further notification of the place of residence.

(※2) As of April 18, 2025, the eight airports where it is possible to issue a residence card at the same time as a new landing permission are New Chitose, Narita, Haneda, Chubu Centrair, Kansai, Kobe, Hiroshima, and Fukuoka airports.

(b) Notification of the Place of Residence After a Change in the Status of Residence and Other Related Matters

A foreign national who had not been previously a mid to long-term resident but newly became a mid to long-term resident as a result of having obtained permission pertaining to their stay in Japan, such as permission for change of the status of residence, permission for extension of the period of stay or permission for acquisition of a status of residence, must notify the Commissioner of the ISA of his or her place of residence by submitting a notification at the office of the municipality where the place of residence is located, bringing his or her residence card, within 14 days of the day of deciding on the place of residence (or for a mid to long-term resident who had already decided on his or her place of residence, from the day on which he or she was granted permission) (Article 19-8 of the Immigration Control Act).

(c) Notification of a Change of Place of Residence

A mid to long-term resident who has changed his or her place of residence must notify the Commissioner of the ISA of his or her new place of residence by submitting a notification at the office of the municipality where the new place of residence is located, bringing his or her residence card, etc., within 14 days of the day on which he or she moved into the new place of residence (Article 19-9 of the Immigration Control Act).

B. Notification of a Change of an Item on the Residence Card

If a change occurs in the name, date of birth, sex or nationality/region, the mid to long-term resident is required to give notification of the change to the Commissioner of the ISA through the Regional Immigration Services Bureau within 14 days of the occurrence of the change (Article 19-10 of the Immigration Control Act).

C. Application to Extend the Valid Period of the Residence Card

Foreign nationals with the status of residence of “Permanent Resident” or “Highly-Skilled Professional (ii),” or mid to long-term residents whose residence card is due to expire on the mid to long-term resident’s 16th birthday are required to submit an application for extension of the period of validity of the residence card to the Commissioner of the ISA at the Regional Immigration Services Bureau within the period for extension (the period from two months before the expiration date of the residence card to the expiration date (if the expiration date of the period of validity is the day prior to the 16th birthday, the period from six months before the expiration date to the expiration date)) (Article 19-11 of the Immigration Control Act). If, however, it is difficult to apply for an extension of the valid period of the residence card within the extension application period for any unavoidable causes, such as long-term medical treatment or a long-term overseas business trip, an application for extension of the valid period of the residence card may be submitted even before the extension application period.

D. Application for Reissuance of a Residence Card Due to Loss or Other Causes

If a mid to long-term resident is no longer in possession of a residence card due to loss, theft, damage or some other causes, he or she is required to submit an application for reissuance of the residence card to the Commissioner of the ISA through the Regional Immigration Services Bureau within 14 days of becoming aware of such fact (if the foreign national was away from Japan when he or she became aware of such fact, the first day of entry into Japan following such discovery) (Article 19-12 of the Immigration Control Act).

E. Application for Reissuance of a Residence Card Due to Damage or Soiling, etc.

If the residence card in the possession of the foreign national has been substantially damaged or soiled, or the data in the IC chip of the residence card has been damaged, an application for reissuance of the residence card may be submitted to the Commissioner of the ISA at the Regional Immigration Services Bureau.

However, in cases where a foreign national has received an order from the Commissioner of the ISA to file an application for reissuance of a residence card because his or her residence card has been substantially damaged or soiled, or the data in the IC chip embedded in his or her residence card has been damaged, he or she must file an application for reissuance of a residence card with the Commissioner of the ISA at the Regional Immigration Services Bureau, within 14 days of the day of receiving the order.

If the holder of the residence card wishes to exchange his or her residence card, he or she is able to apply for reissuance even if the residence card has not been damaged or otherwise soiled (Article 19-13 of the Immigration Control Act).

The payment of a fee of 1,600 yen is required, in this case, for issuance of the residence card.

(3) Integration of Residence Cards, etc. and Individual Number Cards

With the Amendment Act of the Immigration Control Act passed in 2024, it will be able to apply for the issuance of a “specified residence card” or “specified special permanent resident certificate” that integrates the individual number card (My Number Card) with the residence card or special permanent resident certificate. The date on which the Amended Act comes into effect shall be a date specified by a cabinet order, within a period not exceeding two years from the date of promulgation. The enforcement of the Amended Act shall improve the convenience of foreign nationals and the efficiency of administrative operations by enabling necessary procedures to be done one-stop at both the Regional Immigration Services Bureaus and municipality offices.

After the Amended Act comes into effect, when foreign nationals receive permission for an extension of their period of stay or submit a notification of the place of residence, they will be able to obtain specified residence cards that also serve to function as an individual number card. Therefore, for example, mid to long-term residents who wish to continue holding a specified residence card will no longer need to revisit the municipal office for procedures related to the individual number card after completing procedures concerning residence-related applications.

(4) ISA's Seiji Search System

The name given in the residence card and the special permanent resident certificate, in principle, should be given using the Roman letters, but in certain cases such as where a request is made by the foreign national, the name may be indicated in kanji together with or in place of the Roman letters.

With regard to the indication of names using kanji characters in the residence card and the special permanent resident certificate, in accordance with the Public Notice on the Indication of Kanji Character Names in the Residence Cards and Other Certificates (MOJ Public Notice No. 582 of 2011), the characters were specified as within the scope of seiji characters^(※), while simplified characters (referring to Chinese simplified letters and Taiwanese traditional letters which do not match the seiji characters) may be used by replacing them with characters within the range of seiji characters.

Therefore, the ISA introduced “the ISA’s Seiji Search System,” which enables a simple search of kanji names given in the residence card, etc. based on the character codes of simplified characters on July 1, 2013, and made it available for use on the ISA’s website (<http://lapse-immi.moj.go.jp:50122/>).

The organization of affiliation which has registered the organization's user information^(※) for using "the Immigration Services Agency's Electronic Notification System" will be able to make a notification of a change in the name of the organization of affiliation or a change in the location in accordance with the provisions of Article 19-16 of the Immigration Control Act through use of the electronic notification system, upon a request being made by a mid to long-term resident who has also registered his or her user information, in place of such mid to long-term resident.

(7) Inquiry into the Facts

The Commissioner of the ISA shall organize information relating to mid to long-term residents acquired in accordance with the provisions of the Immigration Control Act and other laws and shall keep the contents of the information accurate and up-to date in order to continuously keep track of the family relationships, residence-related matters and status of activities of the mid to long-term residents, etc., under the residency management system of mid to long-term residents. Therefore, the Commissioner of the ISA may, when necessary to continuously keep track of information relating to mid to long term residents, have his or her officers^(※) conduct an inquiry into the facts (Article 19-37 of the Immigration Control Act).

The inquiry into the facts provided for in Article 19-37 of the Immigration Control Act may be exercised within the extent necessary for the Commissioner of the ISA to be able to accurately keep track of the information necessary for the residency management of mid to long-term residents while bearing in mind the demands for protection of the personal information of mid to long-term residents such as restricting the scope of the investigation to the items of notification.

The inquiry of the facts uncovers imposter foreign residents through the compilation and analysis of the information on the Notified Foreign National Employment Status provided by the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare, etc. in addition to information reported by both mid to long-term residents and the organizations of affiliation and has led to effective countermeasures against imposter foreign residents.

2 The System of Special Permanent Residents

Persons who lost Japanese nationality at the time of effectuation of the Treaty of Peace with Japan but have been residing in Japan since before September 2, 1945 and persons who were born in Japan as their lineal descendants and have continued to reside in Japan are permitted to reside permanently in Japan as special permanent residents pursuant to the provisions of the Special Act on the Immigration Control, and special cases are permitted in the Immigration Control Act regarding the period of validity of the re-entry permission and

(※) If a special permanent resident has submitted a notification of moving in or a notification of transfer of residence pursuant to the Residential Basic Book Act, it is deemed that he or she submitted the "Notification of the place of residence" under the Special Act on the Immigration Control, and he or she is not required to give further notification of the place of residence.

(1) Special Permanent Resident Certificate

The Commissioner of the ISA as a certificate to prove the foreign national's legal status as a special permanent resident, and the details to be described are restricted to the required minimum of the name, date of birth, sex, nationality/region, place of residence, number of the special permanent resident certificate, date of issuance and the expiration date of the period of validity (a facial photo will be given in the case of foreign nationals who are 16 years of age or above). In addition, an IC chip on which all or some of the matters described in the certificate are recorded is embedded in the special permanent resident certificate in order to prevent forgery (Article 8 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

A. Notifications of the Place of Residence (※)

If a special permanent resident who has been issued with a special permanent resident certificate which does not describe the place of residence determines or changes his or her place of residence, he or she is required to notify the Commissioner of the ISA of the place of residence within 14 days of the date of determining the place of residence or within 14 days of the date of moving to the new place of residence, by submitting his or her special permanent resident certificate to the counter of the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the place of residence (if he or she has changed the place of the residence, the new one) (Article 10 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

B. Notification of a Change of an Item on the Special Permanent Resident Certificate Other Than the Place of Residence

If a change has arisen in the name, date of birth, sex or nationality/region, the special permanent resident is required to submit a notification of the change to the Commissioner of the ISA at the counter of the municipality with jurisdiction over the residential place within 14 days of the occurrence of the change (Article 11 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

C. Application to Extend the Valid Period of the Special Permanent Resident Certificate

The special permanent resident is required to submit an application for extension of the valid period of the special permanent resident certificate to the Commissioner of the ISA at the counter of the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the residential place within the application period (from two months (six months if the valid period is until the day prior to the 16th birthday) prior to the expiry date of the valid period of the special permanent resident certificate until the expiry date of the valid period of the special permanent resident certificate) until the expiry date of the valid period (Article 12 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

If, however, it is difficult to apply for an extension of the valid period of the residence card within the extension application period for any unavoidable causes, such as long-term medical treatment or a long-term overseas business trip, an application for extension of the valid period of the special permanent resident certificate may be submitted even before the extension application period.

D. Application for Reissuance of a Special Permanent Resident Certificate Due to Loss or Other Causes

If the special permanent resident is no longer in possession of the special permanent resident certificate due to loss, theft, destruction or some other causes, he or she is required to submit an application for reissuance of the special permanent resident certificate to the Commissioner of the ISA at the counter of the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the residential place within 14 days of becoming aware of such fact (if the foreign national was away from Japan when he or she became aware of such fact, the first day of entry into Japan following such discovery.) (Article 13 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control).

E. Application for Reissuance of a Special Permanent Resident Certificate Due to Damage or Soiling, etc.

If the special permanent resident certificate has been substantially damaged or soiled, or the data in the IC chip of the special permanent resident certificate have been damaged, the special permanent resident may submit an application for reissuance of the special permanent resident certificate to the Commissioner of the ISA at the counter of the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the residential place. If the special permanent resident receives an order on an application for reissuance of the special permanent resident certificate from the Commissioner of the ISA owing to the special permanent resident certificate being substantially damaged or soiled, or the data in the IC chip of the special permanent resident certificate being damaged, he or she is required to submit an application for reissuance of the special permanent resident certificate to the Commissioner of the ISA at the counter of the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the residential place within 14 days of receiving such an order.

Moreover, if the special permanent resident wishes to exchange the special permanent resident certificate, he or she may submit an application for reissuance even if the special permanent resident certificate has not been damaged or otherwise soiled (Article 14 of the Special Act on the Immigration Control). The payment of a fee of 1,600 yen is required, in this case, for issuance of the special permanent resident certificate.

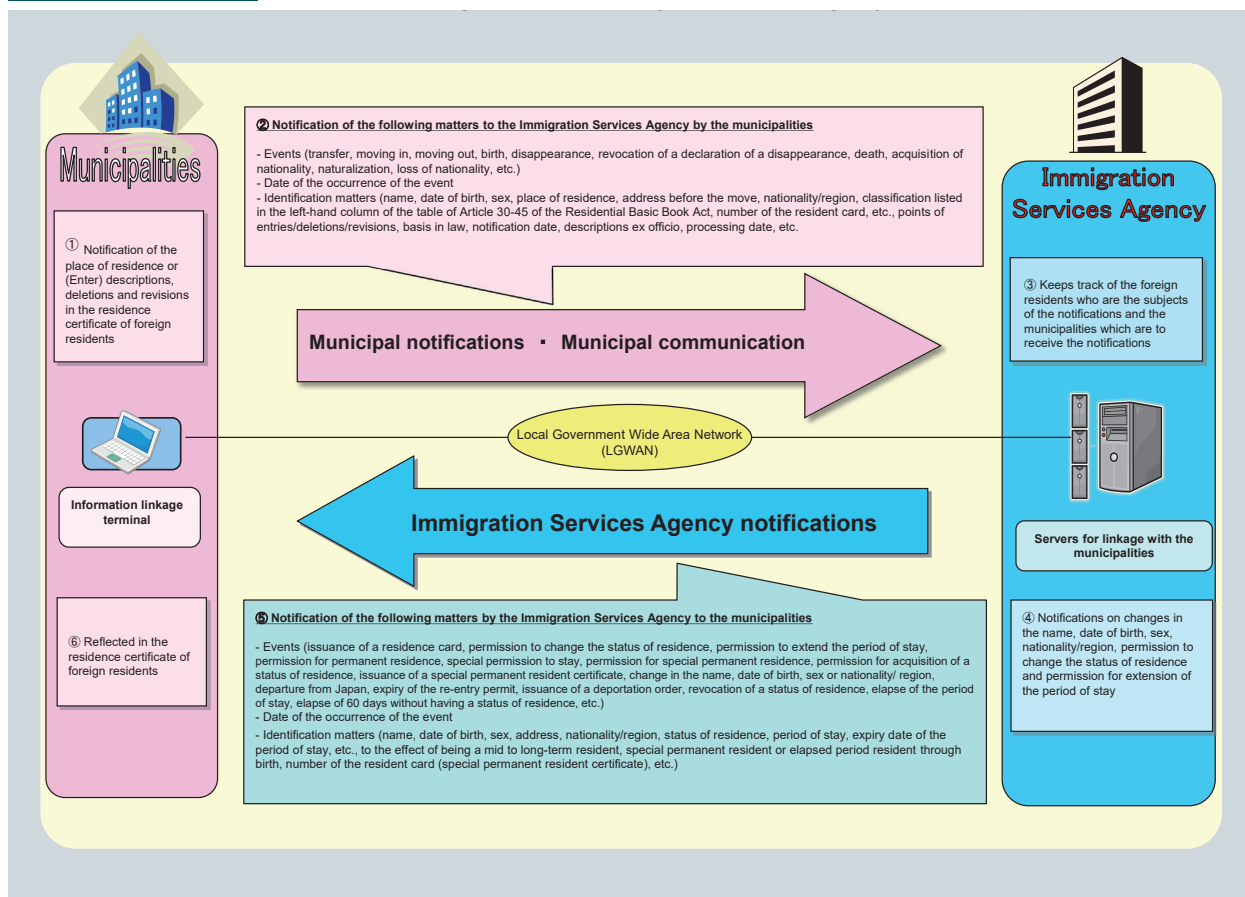

3 Information Linkage Between the ISA and the Municipalities

On July 9, 2012, the Alien Registration Act was abolished and, at the same time, the Act for Partial Amendment (Act No. 77 of 2009) of the Residential Basic Book Act (Act No. 81 of 1967; hereinafter referred to as "Residential Basic Book Act") entered into force. Correspondingly, the Residential Basic Book Act came to be applied to foreign residents, and residence certificates are to be prepared for the foreign residents in the same manner as for Japanese residents by the office of municipality with jurisdiction over the residence of the foreign resident.

In order for the ISA to be able to continuously keep track of the information necessary for fair residence management and for the municipal governments to be able to ensure that the records of the Residential Basic Books are accurate, linkage of information to be shared between them is carried out by using special-purpose terminals.

Specifically, if a change arises or an error comes to light in the prescribed items such as the matters of identification or status of residence with regard to a foreign resident, the ISA notifies the mayor of the municipality which is keeping the Residential Basic Books in which the foreign resident is recorded to such effect without delay, and if an entry, deletion or revision of a described matter is made in the residential certificate pertaining to the foreign resident, the municipality immediately notifies the Commissioner of the ISA to such effect (Reference 103).

Deportation Procedures for Foreign Nationals

In administering immigration control and residency management, it is necessary to achieve a balance in order to promote the smooth acceptance of foreign nationals on the one hand, and to maintain security and order in Japanese society by taking strict action against foreign nationals who threaten safety and security in Japan.

The deportation procedures for foreign nationals constitute a powerful administrative action where a foreign national who threatens safety and security in Japan is deported even if deportation is against the foreign national's will. In international customary law, deportation is left to the discretion of the State. In Japan, the grounds for deportation and the deportation procedures are provided for in the Immigration Control Act, and deportation is carried out based on these provisions. Deportation procedures begin with an immigration control officer conducting an investigation, and is composed of three steps: namely, an examination by an immigration inspector, a hearing by a special inquiry officer, and a decision rendered by the Minister of Justice for the objection filed by the foreign national in order to ensure that the foreign national who is undergoing the deportation procedures will be given ample opportunity to contest the facts of the case or to assert his or her side as to why he or she should be permitted to stay, and to ensure that a decision is made after a careful examination of the facts (Reference 104).

Reference 104 Flow of deportation procedures

(*1) In case of no application for special permission for residence

(*2) If a person is found to be subject to a departure order at each stage of the investigation, examination of the violation, hearing, and decision by the Minister of Justice, he/she will be ordered to depart Japan by a departure order.

1 Investigation into Violations by an Immigration Control Officer

An investigation by an immigration control officer into any violations is the first step in the deportation procedures for foreign nationals. As stipulated in Article 27 of the Immigration Control Act, an immigration control officer will conduct an investigation into any violation by a foreign national who is thought to come under one of the grounds for deportation stipulated in each item of Article 24 of the Act (hereinafter referred to as “suspect”). If the immigration control officer determines that there is reasonable cause to believe that the suspect falls under one of the grounds, he or she will notify a supervising immigration inspector to that effect, and after the issuance of a written detention order, will detain the suspect in accordance with the written detention order, after which the suspect will be handed over to an immigration inspector (Article 39, Article 39-2 and Article 44 of the Immigration Control Act).

2 Examination of Violations by an Immigration Inspector/Hearing by a Special Inquiry Officer

An immigration inspector, on taking delivery of the suspect and taking over the case from an immigration control officer, examines whether the case falls under one of the grounds for deportation (examination of the violations provided for in Article 45, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act). If the immigration inspector finds that a person is subject to deportation, the suspect who has an objection to such findings may request a hearing by a special inquiry officer (Article 48, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

In addition, if the special inquiry officer judges that the above findings are correct, the suspect who has an objection to the judgment may file an objection with the Minister of Justice (Article 49, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

3 Decision by the Minister of Justice

The Minister of Justice makes a decision as to whether or not the objection is with reasonable grounds after receiving it (Article 49, paragraph (3) of the Immigration Control Act).

4 Deportation

(1) Issuance of a Written Deportation Order

As the result of the procedures from examination of the violation to the Minister of Justice's final decision (violation adjudication), or in cases where application for special permission to stay in Japan has not been filed or has been withdrawn or where a decision not to grant permission for such application has been made, a supervising immigration inspector will issue a written deportation order in the cases below:

- (i) Where the immigration inspector found that the foreign national had fallen under one of the grounds for deportation, and the foreign national has submitted to the findings (Article 45, paragraph (1) and Article 47, paragraph (5) of the Immigration Control Act).
- (ii) Where a foreign national, who was found to have fallen under one of the grounds for deportation, objected to the findings and requested a hearing by a special inquiry officer and, as a result of the hearing, the special inquiry officer found that there was no error in the findings, and the foreign national submitted to the findings (Article 48, paragraphs (1) and (10) of the Immigration Control Act).

(iii) If a foreign national who has an objection to the result of the hearing files an objection with the Minister of Justice, and as a result, it is determined that the objection is without reason (Article 49, paragraphs (1) and (7) of the Immigration Control Act).

If a suspect is detained and is found not to fall under one of the grounds for deportation in the violation adjudication procedures, the suspect will be released immediately. If a suspect is found to fall under one of the grounds for deportation but satisfy the requirements for a departure order (see 5 of this Chapter below), the suspect will be released immediately after being ordered to depart from Japan.

(2) Special Permission to Stay in Japan

Even if a foreign national is found to be subject to deportation, the Minister of Justice may grant special permission to stay, as an exceptional and beneficial measure upon the relevant foreign national's application or by the Minister's authority, to the foreign national if (i) such foreign national has obtained permission for permanent residence; (ii) the person once had a registered domicile in Japan as a Japanese national in the past; (iii) the person is a victim of human trafficking in persons; (iv) the person has been recognized as a refugee or eligible for complementary protection; or (v) the Minister of Justice otherwise finds circumstances warranting the granting of special permission to stay (Article 50, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

However, if the relevant foreign national falls under (i) or (ii) below, such special permission may be granted only if there are special circumstances where non-permission is considered to lack humanitarian consideration (the proviso of Article 50, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act):

- (i) A person who has been sentenced to imprisonment for life or for a period of one year or longer (excluding persons with a suspension of execution of sentence or persons for whom the execution of sentence has been partially suspended where the period of the non-suspended part of the sentence is not more than one year); or
- (ii) A person who falls under any of Article 24, items (iii)-2, (iii)-3, item (iv) (c), or (iv) (1) through (o).

5 Departure Order System

The departure order system is a system under which a foreign national in violation of the Immigration Control Act who has illegally stayed beyond the authorized period of stay^(※) may be deported from Japan through simplified procedures without being physically detained, provided that he or she satisfies certain requirements; and moreover, the period of denial of entry of a foreign national who has been deported from Japan under the departure order is one year (if requirement (i) (a) below is satisfied, excluding cases where the foreign national intends to enter Japan with the "Temporary Visitor" status of residence).

A foreign national who has stayed in Japan beyond the authorized period of stay and who also satisfies all of the following requirements may be ordered to depart from Japan (Article 24-3 of the Immigration Control Act):

- (i) The foreign national satisfies either (a) or (b):

- (a) The foreign national voluntarily appears at an immigration services office with the intention to promptly depart from Japan before an investigation into the violation commences.
- (b) The foreign national expresses to an immigration inspector or an immigration control officer the intention to promptly depart from Japan after the commencement of an investigation into the violation before receiving a notice of recognition from an immigration inspector.
- (ii) The foreign national does not fall under any of the grounds for deportation other than overstaying the authorized period of stay.
- (iii) The foreign national has not been sentenced to imprisonment on the charge of theft or other prescribed crimes after entering Japan.
- (iv) The foreign national has neither past record of deportation, nor that of departure by a departure order.
- (v) The foreign national is definitely expected to promptly depart from Japan.

6 Decision to Shorten the Period of Denial of Landing

To encourage foreign nationals who have received a written deportation order to voluntarily depart from Japan, a decision to shorten the period of denial of landing may be made when the foreign nationals intend to depart from Japan at their own expense with permission for departure. Under this system, when foreign nationals leave Japan at their own expense with a decision to shorten the period of denial of landing, the period of denial of landing for such foreign nationals will be shortened from five years to one year (excluding cases where the foreign nationals intend to enter Japan with the “Temporary Visitor” status of residence). A decision to shorten the period of denial of landing to one year may be made if it is considered appropriate to make such decision based on application by persons who have received a written deportation order and intend to depart from Japan at their own expense (only those who have not been deported or have not departed from Japan under a departure order in the past) in consideration of each applicant's behavior, ground for deportation, and other circumstances (Article 52, paragraph (5) of the Immigration Control Act).

Section 6

Recognition of Refugees and Persons under Complementary Protection

1 Accession of the Refugee Convention and Establishment of the System for Recognizing Eligibility for Persons under Complementary Protection

Japan accessed the Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees (“Refugee Convention”) on October 3, 1981 and the Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees (“Protocol”) on January 1, 1982, and accordingly established the system required for the refugee recognition procedures.

The Refugee Convention and the Protocol provide for the definition of refugees, and stipulate the rights and protection to be granted to refugees by the state parties.

On the other hand, in recent years there have been foreign nationals who need protection even though they are, like displaced persons from conflict, not refugees under the Refugee Convention because they do not meet the requirement of being at risk of persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion as provided in the Refugee Convention. To securely protect such persons including displaced persons from conflict who are not “refugees” under the Refugee Convention but need protection in the same way as “refugees,” the system for recognizing eligibility for persons under complementary protection commenced on December 1, 2023.

2 Refugee and Other Recognition Procedures (Reference 105)

(1) Definitions of Refugees

A “refugee” refers to a refugee as defined in Article 1 of the Refugee Convention or in Article 1 of the Protocol (Article 2, item (iii) of the Immigration Control Act). Generally, a refugee is defined as a person who is outside the country of his or her nationality owing to a well-founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion and is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to avail himself or herself of the protection of that country.

(2) Definition of Persons under Complementary Protection

A “Person under complementary protection” means a person who is not a refugee under the Refugee Convention but meets all requirements other than being at risk of “persecution for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion” (Article 2, item (iii)-2 of the Immigration Control Act).

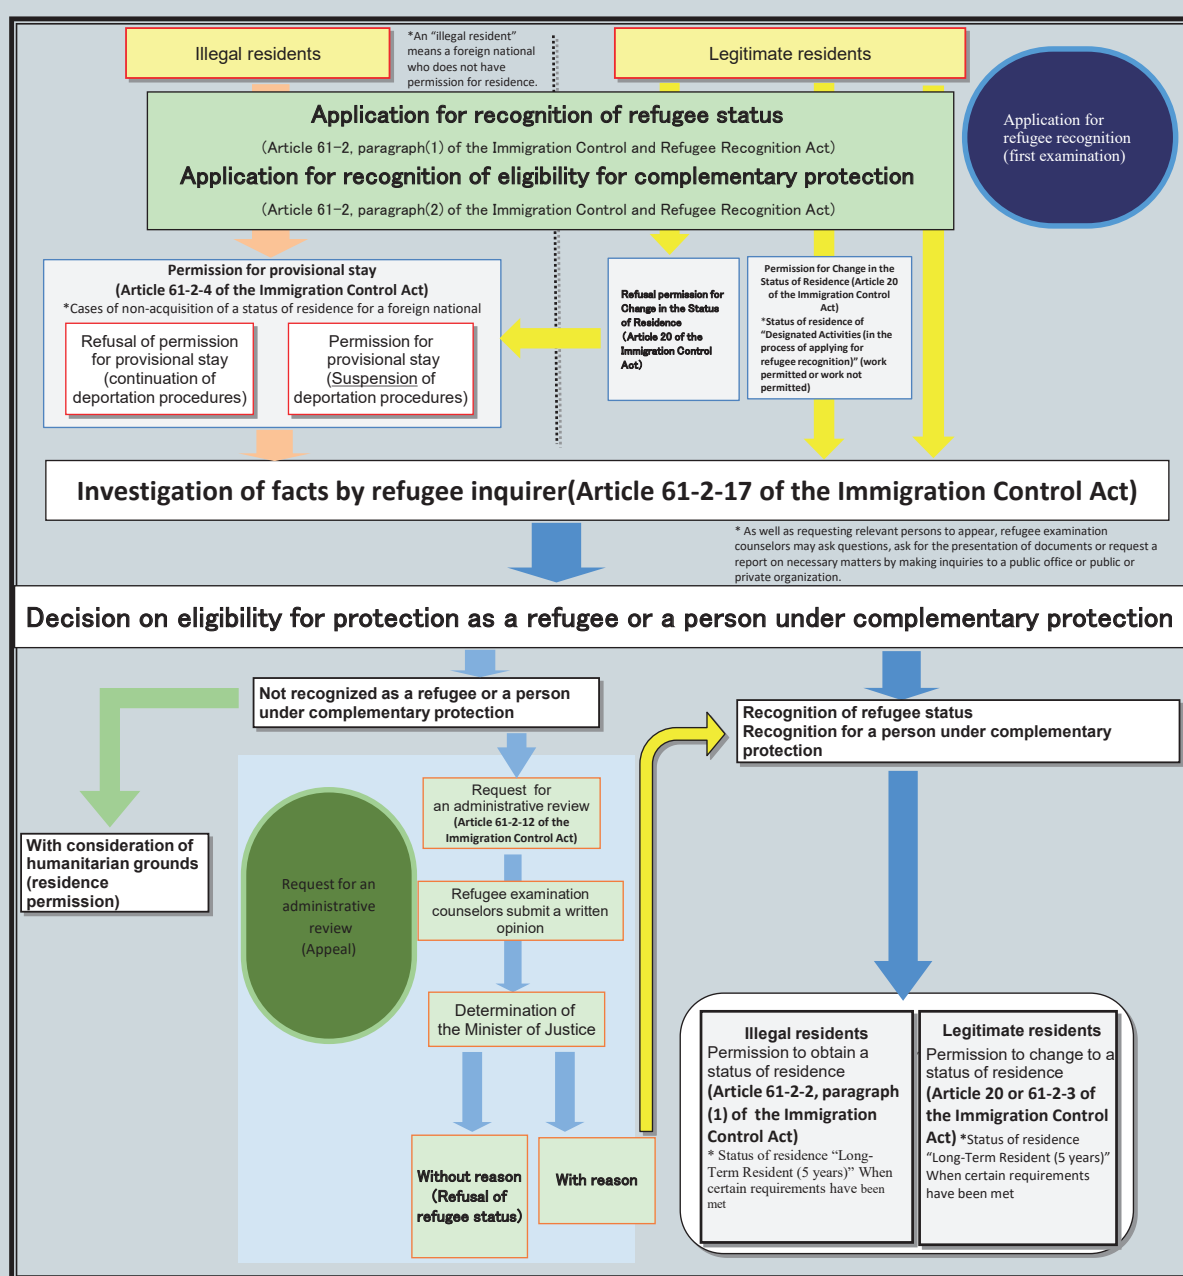

(3) Permission for Provisional Stay

When a foreign national without a status of residence, such as a person who has illegally stayed beyond the authorized period of stay, applies for refugee recognition or recognition of eligibility for complementary protection, in order to stabilize his or her legal status, the person will be permitted to provisionally stay in Japan if he or she meets certain requirements (Article 61-2-4, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act), and the deportation procedures will be suspended during the period of the permission for provisional stay (Article 61-2-9, paragraph (2) of the Immigration Control Act).

The period of provisional stay is determined as a period not exceeding six months (Article 56-2, paragraph (2) of the Ordinance for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act) and, if an application for extension is filed prior to the expiration of the period of the provisional stay, that period will be extended (Article 61-2-4, paragraph (4) of the Immigration Control Act). However, various conditions will be imposed on the permission for provisional stay, such as restrictions on the domicile and scope of activity (Article 61-2-4, paragraph (3) of the Immigration Control Act and Article 56-2, paragraph (3) of the Ordinance for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act).

Foreign nationals who have been permitted to provisionally stay in Japan may be allowed, upon their application, to perform activities to obtain remuneration to the extent necessary to make a living if it is considered reasonable to grant such permission (Article 61-2-7, paragraph (2) of the Immigration Control Act).

Reference 105 Outline of refugee and other recognition procedures

Note: An illegal resident may apply for special permission for residence after they are detained under a written detention order, or apply to be placed under supervision measures until a written deportation order is issued. The decision to grant special permission for residence is determined based not only on their family relationships, behavior, and other background information, but also on humanitarian considerations, the situation in their home country, and other circumstances. (Article 50, paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (5) of the Immigration Control Act)

(4) Sorting of Applications (Reference 106 and 107)

To promptly process applications filed by those who need protection as refugees or people eligible for complementary protection and suppressing the misuse and abuse of applications, applications are sorted into Case A through Case D as follows for operational purposes:

Reference 106 Sorting of applications

- Category A application (the applicant is highly likely to be a refugee or a person under complementary protection, or to need humanitarian considerations due to the situation in their home country and other circumstances)
- Category B application (the applicant alleges circumstances manifestly not covered by the grounds for persecution set out in the Refugee Convention)
- Category C application (the applicant is a re-applicant and repeats claims similar to the previous ones without good reason)
- Category D application (other applications)

(5) Inquiry into the Facts

The applicants are responsible for proving that they are refugees or eligible for complementary protection (Article 61-2, paragraphs (1) and (2) of the Immigration Control Act), but due to the nature of the application, it is not uncommon for people fleeing persecution not to have objective documentation. Consequently, it is not appropriate to refuse recognition of refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection just because the applicant does not have adequate objective evidence of eligibility for refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection. Therefore, when an accurate recognition of refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection is not possible with only the data furnished by the applicant, a refugee inquirer will inquire into facts (Article 61-2-17 of the Immigration Control Act).

(6) Recognition of Refugee Status and Eligibility for Complementary Protection by the Minister of Justice and Effects of Recognition

When foreign nationals have been recognized as refugees or eligible for complementary protection, the Minister of Justice will issue a certificate of refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection to the foreign nationals concerned. If foreign nationals are denied recognition of refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection, they will be notified in writing with the reason attached (Article 61-2, paragraphs (4) and (5) of the Immigration Control Act).

In cases where foreign nationals who have been recognized as refugees or persons eligible for complementary protection do not have a status of residence, if they meet certain requirements, they shall uniformly be granted the status of residence of "Long-Term Resident" (Article 61-2-2, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

One of the effects under the Immigration Control Act is that some of the requirements to obtain permission for permanent residence will be eased with regard to a foreign national who has been recognized as a refugee or person subject to complementary protection (Article 61-2-14 of the Immigration Control Act).

A foreign national who has been recognized as a refugee may receive a refugee travel document (Article 61-2-15 of the Immigration Control Act).

3 Request for an Administrative Review

(1) Request for an Administrative Review

If a foreign national has an objection to a disposition denying recognition of, or revoking recognition of, refugee status or eligibility for complementary protection or if there is failure to act pertaining to the application for recognition, such foreign national may submit a request to the Minister of Justice for an administrative review (Article 61-2-12, paragraph (1) of the Immigration Control Act).

The Minister of Justice must hear the opinions of the refugee examination counselors when making a determination on the request for an administrative review (paragraph (3) of the same Article). In addition, if the Minister of Justice makes the determination to deny or dismiss the request for an administrative review, the Minister of Justice must clearly state a summary of the opinions of the refugee examination counselors in the reasons attached to the determination (paragraph (4) of the same Article).

(2) Refugee Examination Counselors System

The refugee examination counselors' system was introduced in May 2005 in order to improve the procedures with fairness and neutrality. After that, in April 2016, with the enforcement of the Amendment Act of the Administrative Complaint Review Act, the refugee examination counselors are deemed to be the review officers prescribed in the same Act with the provisions of the same Act applied (Article 61-2-12, paragraph (5) of the Immigration Control Act). Moreover, the refugee examination counselors' system also came to be applied to the procedures for requesting an administrative review in cases of failure to act pertaining to the application for recognition of refugee status. In addition, the system for recognizing eligibility for persons under complementary protection commenced in December 2023, and the refugee examination counselors' system, also came to be applied to the procedures for requesting an administrative review in cases specified in (1) above (paragraphs (1) and (3) of the same Article). The refugee examination counselors are appointed by the Minister of Justice from the persons of reputable character who are capable of making a fair judgment on the administrative review of the disposition denying recognition of refugee status, revoking recognition of refugee status, or failure to act pertaining to the application for refugee recognition, who have an academic background in law or international affairs (Article 61-2-13, paragraph (2) of the Immigration Control Act), and who have been recommended by the UNHCR, the Japan Federation of Bar Associations, NGOs and others. Three refugee examination counselors form the board, and three refugee examination counselors are appointed for each case by the Minister of Justice carrying out the prescribed administrative review procedures and submit a written opinion to the Minister of Justice.

4 Landing Permission for Temporary Refuge

Landing permission for temporary refuge, prescribed as one of the types of special landing permission granted to foreign nationals (Article 18-2 of the Immigration Control Act), will be granted by an immigration inspector if a foreign national aboard a vessel or aircraft has fled from a territory where his or her life, body, or physical freedom is likely to be endangered for the reasons prescribed in the Refugee Convention and other reasons equivalent thereto or has fled from a territory where he or she is at risk of persecution for the above reasons and has entered the territory of Japan, and it is appropriate for permission for temporary landing to be granted to such foreign national.

The period for landing is determined as a period not exceeding six months (Article 18-2, paragraph (4) of the Immigration Control Act; Article 18, paragraph (5) of the Ordinance for Enforcement of the Immigration Control Act) (Reference 108).
